U of M Crookston Campus Camp-In Rescheduled for March 30 and 31, 2007, for Prospective Students

By Kelli Barnes, Elizabeth Tollefson on Friday, February 23, 2007

CROOKSTON, Minn. (Feb. 23, 2007) – Take a road trip to the University of Minnesota, Crookston (UMC) and join us for Campus Camp-In Friday, March 30 and Saturday, March 31. The fun begins during the journey to campus as prospective students are challenged to discover items along the way – best gas station, song, license plate – and report in on arrival. The Camp-In is free and more details are available when participants call to sign up.

All prospective students are encouraged to attend and learn more about the U of M, Crookston which offers affordable U of M degrees in a private campus setting; applied, hands-on learning and research and top level technology. Activities includes faculty question and answer sessions, a photo scavenger hunt, free food, goodies and entertainment, including a professional comedian. Tour campus and discover what the Crookston campus has to offer. If you are interested in more information or would like to reserve a spot today, contact the UMC Admissions Office at 1-800-862-6466.

The University of Minnesota, Crookston (UMC) delivers more than 25 different undergraduate degree programs, including online degrees, in agriculture; arts, humanities, and social sciences; business; math, science and technology; and natural resources. UMC is dedicated to helping students and the region aim higher, reach further, and dream big dreams. To learn more, visit www.UMCrookston.edu.
